Breakfast 7:30 AM - 8:30 AM

Welcome & Keynote – Derek Clark 8:30 AM - 10:30 AM

Derek Clark's life is one of resilience and redemption. As a child, he suffered unthinkable child abuse, abandonment and emotional distress before being turned over to the psychiatric hospital at age five. His 13 years in the San Francisco bay area foster care system reflected an early life of humiliation, aggression, emotional distress, overwhelming anxiety and being wrongfully labeled. Eventually, with the help of loving foster parents and a fantastic social worker, he defied the artificial limitations imposed upon him. Derek knows first-hand how to cope with adversity and overcoming hardship. His past has never held him back from accomplishing what he set his heart and mind to. Derek is an inspiring speaker, author and has recently become a viral video sensation for his "Rapping Dad" videos which have had over 200 million views. He's also been featured on CNN Headline News, The Steve Harvey TV Show and many other TV shows around the world. He is the author of seven books including "Disable the Label", "Never Limit Your Life" and the "I Will Never Give Up" book series. Find out more about motivational speaker Derek Clark at

Leadership - Aspects of Effective Leadership 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

This session will focus on two aspects of effective leadership: catalytic leadership, meaning a model of leadership focused on catalyzing others to willingly and actively participate in facing important community or agency issues; and extreme leadership, meaning an approach to leadership that is very principle based with a strong focus on what we each bring to the table in our own skills and perspectives and how to translate that into lasting positive results.

Speaker: John Morgan

Mental Illness - Patterns of Aggression Among Youth 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

This session will focus upon the most prominent patterns of aggression displayed by youth, irrespective of diagnosis, and offer best practice intervention strategies for those intervening with such youth.

Speaker: Ellis Amdur

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Hope as a Psychological Strength 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Hope has emerged as one of the top factors leading to human flourishing across the life span. This seminar will present the science of Hope as a psychological strength in our ability to cope with traumatic experiences and flourish toward future goals. In particular research conducted at OU Tulsa will be discussed that show (1) hope predicts adaptive and maladaptive outcomes, (2) hope buffers the effects of adversity, and (3) hope can be influenced and sustained. This seminar will also present “hands-on” tools to assess hope and develop strategies to attain established desirable goals.

Speaker: Chan Hellman

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - You Cannot Think Negative About Youth and Expect a Positive Outcome 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Derek Clark will give you insight into his personal childhood journey of thirteen years in the foster care system, and the key reasons why he did not turn out an addict, incarcerated, or dead. He takes you down his road of hate, anger, mistrust in adults, violent tendencies, rejection, lack of love, child abuse and the memories that haunted his life. He believes that by changing the way you look at a youth, you can significantly impact their life. Your actions will speak louder than your words.

Derek Clark’s inspiring program provides insight and specific tools that will assist professionals in connecting with vulnerable and grieving youth. Professionals will gain understanding and knowledge about childhood responses to traumatic experiences, how to ask questions that build trust and shape futures. Every professional working with challenging youth has a purpose; to build a relationship of trust, to help them to reclaim their dignity and self-value, and to know that their past mistakes do not have to infect their future. He teaches on the subject matter, “You cannot think negative thoughts about a youth and expect them to live a positive life.” Consequences don’t change youth, relationships change youth. He shares with you how to commit and build upon your strengths when encouraging youth to have hope and the belief that their best days are still ahead of them.

Speaker: Derek Clark

Education - Educating Adjudicated Youth: Tangible Skills, Workable Goals 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

The MLK Education Center is located on the Serbu Youth Campus in Eugene, Oregon. MLK staff work in our alternative high school, our JDEP classroom and Phoenix - our BRS program. The mission of MLK is to develop skills in youth to be successful at school, work and in the community. Our program uses best practices in juvenile supervision combined with a dynamic academic approach to scaffold tangible skill building into every day lesson planning. This workshop will discuss ways to ensure the youth in our care consistently receive the credits, learning and skill building they need to integrate back into a successful learning environment in their community.

Speaker: Matthew Stern

Juvenile Justice Practices - Restorative Justice: A glimpse of success and a vision for the future

10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

Expanding partnerships with Community Dispute Resolution Centers across Oregon. What’s working, what’s possible and where might the next stage take us? What we know from years of research is that to really make change in behaviors, we need to maintain relationships. Each time we gain compliance through punishment, we do it at the expense of relationship and influence. We get our way in the short term and lose ground in the long term. This interactive panel will share successes in Restorative Justice from around the state and a vision for the Northwest in new community partnerships.

Speakers: Marti Dane, Chip Coker and Cara Walsh

Equity - Finding Hope in Prison: Stories of Family, Redemption and Juvenile Justice Reform

10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

This interactive session will explore the connections between the adult corrections system, the juvenile system and the role that families play in the development of juvenile offending. In this session, you will learn about Kevin's work with incarcerated men, and their surprising suggestions for juvenile justice reforms.

Speaker Kevin Altucker

Lunch 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Leadership - Ethical Behavior in the Public Realm 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

Ethical behavior in the public realm is the very timely and challenging topic for this session. The important word is "behavior" as this is not a code of ethics meaning rules, standards, and regulations; but rather a strong mindset of understanding one's own ethical framework of thinking and how that influences and should guide behavior. Much of the challenge is in having the courage to behave ethically especially when working in public arenas where the public's trust is critical not only to one's own professional success but also to the credibility of the organization itself.

Speaker: John Morgan

Mental Illness - Intervention with Youth Suffering from Psychotic Disorders 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

This session will focus upon psychosis among young people, irrespective of diagnosis, and offer best practice intervention strategies for those intervening with such youth.

Speaker: Ellis Amdur

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Hope as a Psychological Strength (Repeat) 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

Hope has emerged as one of the top factors leading to human flourishing across the life span. This seminar will present the science of Hope as a psychological strength in our ability to cope with traumatic experiences and flourish toward future goals. In particular research conducted at OU Tulsa will be discussed that show (1) hope predicts adaptive and maladaptive outcomes, (2) hope buffers the effects of adversity, and (3) hope can be influenced and sustained. This seminar will also present "hands-on" tools to assess hope and develop strategies to attain established desirable goals.

Speaker: Chan Hellman

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Building Resilience Through Mindful Self Compassion 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

In this session, you'll learn about an emerging mindfulness intervention that focuses on self-compassion practices. Learn what the research says about how self-compassion builds resilience and emotional well-being, and cultivates positive states of mind. The focus of the workshop will be on the science of Mindful Self-Compassion and its relationship to mediating the body's threat defense system along with mindfulness practices and valuable tools designed to enable you to respond to difficult moments and stress in your life with kindness, care and understanding.

Speaker: Judy Clarke

Education - Youth & Fire Prevention 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

This session will highlight best practices in addressing youth with fire related behavior. Juvenile Professionals will get an in-depth look at the Oregon Youth Fire Screening Tool used across the state in response to youth who have been involved in a fire related offense, as well as a better understanding of the resources and support that the Office of the State Fire Marshal has to offer. We will look at processes and collaborations happening throughout the state and participants will get an opportunity to learn from one another's successes.

Speaker: Sara Jasmin

Juvenile Justice Practices - Interstate Compact for Juveniles 101 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

The Interstate Compact for Juveniles (ICJ) provides the legal means to transfer a juvenile's supervision from one state to another and to return runaways/absconders across state lines. Participants will be provided with a brief overview of the ICJ and the role of the Oregon ICJ office, followed by a discussion of ICJ rule changes going into effect early 2018. Participants will have an opportunity to review ICJ processes, to seek clarification of rules, and explore opportunities for greater collaboration.

Speaker: Gloria Soja

Equity - Finding Hope in Prison: Stories of Family, Redemption and Juvenile Justice Reform (Repeat)

1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

This interactive session will explore the connections between the adult corrections system, the juvenile system and the role that families play in the development of juvenile offending. In this session, you will learn about Kevin's work with incarcerated men, and their surprising suggestions for juvenile justice reforms.

Speaker: Kevin Altucker

Break 2:45 PM - 3:00 PM

Leadership - Data Driven Decision Making Part 1 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

Although Part 1 and Part 2 cover similar topics, they may be attended independently. This session will cover a variety of examples where data and research can be used to improve juvenile justice operations. Each topic will include a discussion of national and state level research, graphical representations of data, and implications for managers and staff working with youth throughout the delinquency continuum.

Speaker: Mark Greenwald

Mental Illness - Intervention with Youth Display Borderline or Sociopathic Traits 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

This session will focus upon two patterns of behavior among young people, among those referred to as personality disorders, and offer best practice intervention strategies for those intervening with such youth. Among topics to be addressed are splitting, manipulative strategies, and grooming behaviors.

Speaker: Ellis Amdur

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Second Chances 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

Experiential expertise of Oregon's "Second Look" process and what it's like to literally grow up in prison. Opportunities for advancement while incarcerated such as Inside Out, OCE and youth empowerment programs in both OYA and Adult facilities throughout the state. What it looks like to transition from OYA to the Adult system and what it's like to transition from a life sentence, back into the community after 17-1/2 years.

Speaker: Travis Walraven

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Building Resilience Through Mindful Self Compassion (Repeat)

3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

In this session, you'll learn about an emerging mindfulness intervention that focuses on self-compassion practices. Learn what the research says about how self-compassion builds resilience and emotional well-being, and cultivates positive states of mind. The focus of the workshop will be on the science of Mindful Self-Compassion and its relationship to mediating the body's threat defense system along with mindfulness practices and valuable tools designed to enable you to respond to difficult moments and stress in your life with kindness, care and understanding.

Speaker: Judy Clarke

Education - From Bars to Bridges - Wrap Around Services for Students Re-entering School from Juvenile Detention 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

Educating detained youth and ensuring successful transition back to community schools is an equity issue with systematic barriers disproportionately affecting African-American/Black students. Research and practice identify trauma-informed, culturally responsive, wraparound services as critical to re-enrolling and re-engaging students. Join us to learn how transition specialists are supporting high school and post-secondary success.

Speaker: Scott Ryan

Juvenile Justice Practices - The Seven Drug Categories of the World 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

This session will be covering the seven drug categories. This session will describe in detail the signs and symptoms of each drug category and how a person uses this information to articulate the impairment on the subject they are evaluating or coming in contact with.

Speaker: Robert Hayes

Juvenile Justice Practices - Juvenile Diversion That Really Delivers 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM

Since 2010, Teen Law School has been delivering evidence-informed juvenile diversion programming to court-referred youth in multiple jurisdictions under a contract with the Arizona Supreme Court, Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC), and Juvenile Justice Services Division. The program's goals are to teach each teen, what they need to know about Arizona laws so they can make safer, law-abiding choices, help teens resist risky behaviors by offering peer pressure skills training and practice opportunities, and empower teens to understand for themselves the importance of protecting their personal liberties, reputations and public records. Teen Law School leaders will share facts and information about the real life legal consequences of typical teen behaviors including:

The Six D's: Drinking, Driving, Drugs, Dating, Digital Drama and "Dumb Stuff."

Speaker: Claudia Gilburd, Teen Law School

Banquet, Entertainment & Dancing 6:00 PM - 10:30 PM

Tuesday, October 17, 2017

Breakfast 7:30 AM - 8:30 AM

Welcome & Keynote – Mac Bledsoe 8:30 AM - 10:00 AM

Parenting with Dignity teaches parents how to instill a sense of responsible decision making in their kids. This is a positive approach to parenting that is simple, easily understood, applicable in any situation, and incredibly intuitive. Learn how to foster happy, self-directed children with a strong value structure and a sense of accountability for their actions. Discover how to teach youth how to act appropriately in different situations, and to be confident in their self-worth because they know they have the unconditional love of their parents and belief in themselves.

Leadership - Data Driven Decision Making Part 2 10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

Although Part 1 and Part 2 cover similar topics, they may be attended independently. This presentation will cover a variety of examples where data and research can be used to improve juvenile justice operations. Each topic will include a discussion of national and state level research, graphical representations of data, and implications for managers and staff working with youth throughout the delinquency continuum.

Speaker: Mark Greenwald

Mental Illness - Engaging Families and Youth from a Trauma Informed Lens 10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

Current research indicates that Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) are prevalent and intergenerational. In the absence of resiliency and protective factors, health risk behaviors lead to parenting practices that can increase the risk of ACES for the next generation. Understanding the impact of trauma and adversity is not only critical to working with youth but also with families. This workshop will present current research and effective strategies at engaging traumatized families and youth.

Speaker: Amy Baker

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Identifying and Working with Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children 1 10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

In this workshop, you will learn about the General CSEC (commercial sexual exploitation of children) Training Objectives. There will be an opportunity to discuss and understand CSEC, understand the various forms and the prevalence of CSEC in Oregon and the US. Learn how to identify children who are victims, including boys. Come and learn about the various resources to support and serve exploited children.

Speaker: Kelli Doolittle

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Perseverance & Grit 10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

Perseverance has been making headlines. Why is perseverance an important concept, and how does it relate to other types of social and emotional growth that we are supporting in young people? This research-packed workshop helps adults learn about the science behind perseverance.

Speaker: Celeste Janssen

Education - Messages of Love 10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

To send messages of love to your children you must show up. Love is not a spectator sport. From here on, if you are not willing to give your children lots of your time, you might as well stop reading! Every technique from this point on will require lots of your time. There is a fallacy afoot in the world. It is the statement that, "We give quality time to our kids." Baloney! It is impossible to turn on quality time. We adults can't do it with each other and it is even more impossible to do it with our children. There is TIME; period! There is not a person alive who owns the switch for turning on quality time.

Speaker: Mac Bledsoe

Juvenile Justice Practices - The Impact of Marijuana Legislation 10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

Get the latest updates from the most recent legislative session. This course will help you to understand Oregon's marijuana law and discuss the ways in which it will affect how you do your job!

Speaker: Robert Hayes

Equity - Does Your Girl's Program meet Gender-Responsive and Trauma Informed Best Practices?

10:15 AM - 11:45 PM

This workshop will introduce strategies, knowledge and skills needed to reach and impact girls in your programs. The newly published Gender-Responsive Standards and Assessment Tools (G-SAT) Handbook and the Trauma-Informed Practices for Working with Girls—Staff Handbook, will enable you to see girls more clearly through a gender lens and a trauma lens. By implementing the G-SAT and trauma-informed practices, both based on best practices, you will be more effective in helping girls in their journey to self-sufficiency, belief in themselves and empowerment. Integrating a gender-responsive and trauma-informed approach creates a foundational shift in your program's culture and strategy. This can strengthen and improve the substance, quality, and impact of the services you provide, significantly increasing your program's successful outcomes with girls. The workshop focuses on these two new handbooks so that you can make this happen!

Speakers: Pam Patton and Marcia Morgan

Lunch 12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Education - School Resource Officers: Juvenile Impact & Intervention 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

School Resource Officers have been in schools since 1968, but what has been the impact? Just as society has evolved and changed, so has the role of the School Resource Officer. This workshop will provide an overview of the role of an SRO within our schools and the pathway from presence to intervention. This workshop will give insight on the importance of strong partnerships between Youth Services and Law Enforcement and the intervention, planning and accountability of the youth we serve. In this workshop the phrase, "Work Smarter, Not Harder" will become a reality when working with law enforcement as a youth services provider.

Speaker: Rick Puente

Mental Illness - "So I'm Trauma Informed, Now What?" Practical Application for Work with Traumatized Youth 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

Youth with trauma histories are more likely to engage in risky behaviors, learn ways to keep them engaged and still hold youth accountable. In addition, be able to identify what makes a trauma informed approach when working with your client's day to day.

Speaker Zoe Pearson

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Identifying and Working with Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children 2 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

After attending the "Identifying and Working with CSEC (commercial sexual exploitation of children) 1", this workshop will expand on the general CSEC Training Objectives while digging a bit deeper into pimp tactics and the relational dynamics of CSEC, the Rules of the Game (how children are controlled by exploiters) and trauma bonding (why kids stay with/return to their exploiters). You will begin to understand the psychological impact, cognitive functioning and mental health of these youth with PTSD, depression, substance abuse, etc. This workshop will teach you how to engage CSEC survivors in services and supports and the necessity of provider self-care (patience, compassion, boundaries).

Speaker: Kelli Doolittle

Juvenile Justice Practices - Developmental Relationships 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

Strong, supportive relationships are the number one factor in building successful interventions for youth and achieving positive outcomes. But relationship building is complex, and people think about relationships differently. This workshop shares two new frameworks, to help participants broaden the way they think about building relationships with youth. We'll also discuss strategies on how to create relationship-rich environments.

Speaker: Celeste Janssen

Education - Parenting with Dignity 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

Parenting with Dignity (PWD) encourages parents, caregivers, and professionals who work with youth to rethink their approach to discipline, punishment and empowerment. PWD advocates permitting children to make some of their own decisions, and to experience the consequences so they can act responsibly when away from adults, or under peer pressure, so they become more independent and critical thinkers.

Speaker: Mac Bledsoe

Juvenile Justice Practices - Sex Offender Registration & Supervision 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

This session will focus on ORS 163A.025 and ORS 163A.030. Participants will learn the differences between a Relief from Reporting Hearing (163.025) and a Hearing on Issue of Reporting by Sex Offender Adjudicated in Juvenile Court (163A.030). Participants will learn how to prepare for these hearings, what material is required to be provided to the court, defense counsel and the State (DA's Office).

Speaker: John Lynch

Hope, Compassion & Self Care - Building Hope Together 1:15 PM - 2:45 PM

Hope is a learned skill. It is not a feeling, but a strategy. The research is clear; the best predictor of a high school students graduating from college is how hopeful that student is (see Doctor Shane Lopez with Gallup and the Strengths Institute). One of the areas we will discuss during this presentation will be the work in the field of neuroscience, particularly the understanding of the process of mental time travel, which is the understanding of how the brain reconstructs its past personal events (memory) and its relationship to the mental construction of possible future events (HOPE). This process has the power to divide our youth into two categories- HOPEFUL and HOPELESS. By understanding how the brain "learns" to be hopeless or hopeful, we will then share and develop further strategies that assist with this level of brain development and function. Through a series of presentations, discussions, and goal planning, you will be able to leave this seminar with the knowledge gained and action steps needed to support the fostering of hope in all youth. The other area of major importance that we will cover will be how to create this climate of hopefulness in your building and community in a collective manner. If we are to foster hope in ALL students, not just SOME students, it is imperative we have a strategic plan to move from ME to WE.

Speaker: Wally Endicott
